

What do you think about racial discrimination in the world?

Today, racism continues to be one of the main discrimination problems in our society. On multitudes of occasions, we are present in situations where people are treated with inferiority and where they are judged with a wide variety of prejudices. This problem is usually seen in education, health, housing, politics, employment and in everyday life itself, both publicly and privately. Racism and racial discrimination is caused by fear, hatred, ignorance, ideology, by socio-economic circumstances, among others. That is why, today, various measures and struggles are carried out to become aware of the existing global problems. The UN is one of the main organizations that emphasizes this problem, due to the great lack of tolerance present in today's world, its main objective being to end racism, ethnic discrimination and xenophobia and trying to prevail above all the principal equality of all human beings.

Do you think that one day the multitude of struggles and measures currently being taken will bear fruit against racism? What is your opinion?

Weekly Resources

Justin Michael Williams, Ending Racism: How to Change the world in Once Generation

JEDI Justice * Equity * Diversity * Inclusion