

Maggie Nagle

Maggie serves as the Programs Specialist for CHP where she provides various levels of support for current projects and programs. Prior to joining the team at CHP, she worked for five years in nonprofit roles including as a research assistant on a State Opioid Response Grant, a public housing coordinator, a tenant advocate for an equal housing agency, and a graduate intern for a community reinvestment coalition.

She completed her B.A in Sociology in 2015 and went on to earn her Masters in Social Work at St. Louis University in December of 2020, emphasizing in nonprofit administration and communities and organizations. As a graduate student, she spent two years working in diverse fields including housing, community development and reinvestment, substance use issues, social policy, and mental health. These diverse positions provided insight into the intersecting nature of social problems and the crucial role of community collaboration and systems-change work to address them, which is why she was excited to join CHP's team.

Originally from St. Louis, Maggie joined the Colorado Springs community in February of 2021 and as a lover of the outdoors, has acclimated quite well to the Colorado lifestyle.
