

Taryn Bailey, MS

Taryn is CHP's Director of Communications and Partnerships. Her background includes nearly two decades of communications experience, and over ten years of experience in health promotion and education in the Pikes Peak region. Taryn is passionate about supporting organizations that empower individuals to make the healthiest choices for themselves and their families.

Prior to joining CHP, she spent four years in youth advocacy at El Paso County Public Health, managing a community collaboration to reduce risk and increase protective factors commonly associated with youth substance use. She has also worked in personal fitness, obesity prevention and sexual and reproductive health. She holds a BA in Journalism/Mass Communications from the University of New Mexico (2000), and an MS in Health Promotion from the University of Colorado Colorado Springs (2011).

Taryn moved to Colorado in 2006 from her home state of New Mexico and is a single mom to a son in high school.
